2 experts say Bush losing war on terrorism

WASHINGTON—OF TERRORISM EXPERTS
David Brinkman and Steven Simon have issued a stark conclusion about the war on terrorism: The United States is losing.

Despite an early victory over the Taliban and al Qaeda in Afghanistan, the two senior US defense administration officials say US President George W. Bush's policies have created a new wave of terrorism in Iraq that threatens the potential for lasting peace against Europe and the United States.

Brinkman and Simon said that a new

DOJ files tax evasion charge vs Judy Anne

By Leticia Salazar

REVEALING THE BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE, the Department of Justice has recommended the filing of tax evasion charges against actress Judy Anne Sanjines allegedly underreporting her income and failing to pay P1.58 million in income taxes for the year 2001.

She would have up to five years in prison and a fine of up to P100,000 if convicted.

In a resolution signed by general prosecutor Oliver Torres, the DOJ also dismissed former charges against former IMF Counsel, Ronald Guillermo Reyes and other human officials. Torres claimed they had violated the anti-graft and anti-backbitering act and the code of conduct for public officials in filing the complaint against her.

Torres could have been in court in prison and pay a fine of P100,000 in 2000, as charged, said Antonio Nino, Torres' assistant.

According to the DOJ, Sanjines had received a total of P40,000,000.00 in 2001 from ABS-CBN, Viva Entertainment, RSM, Cinema, Century Cinema Corp. and Regal Entertainment. Sanjines' income tax return showed that she only earned P4,000,000.00 for the year.

As per the DOJ's complaint, the actress paid only P2,467,450 in taxes in 2001, which was P1,581,124 short of the right amount.

Torres claimed the DOJ had deliberately and intentionally misled the court with its evidence, which amounted to over 700 pages, which included the relevant company tax returns for 2001. She added that given the false affidavits, she was not a party to the case.

She also denied signing any financial document to ensure that her 2001 income tax return and the respective of the document were done in good faith by her accountant.

According to Torres, the actress "intentionally" misled the court by failing to declare a substantial portion of her income for 2001.

"Based on the prosecution that the taxpayer and willfully filed a false and fraudulent return becomes a crime."

Sanjines and Torres are moving to have the complaint dismissed since she only paid P2,467,450 in income tax in 2001.

Bishop to Luisita mourners: Don't rush to judgment

MANILA CITY—THE PRESIDENT OF THE Catholic Bishops Conference of the Philippines and another senior prelate yesterday appealed to angry supporters of late leader Benigno Aquino not to rush judgment on who was behind the murder.

"We always warning and discourage to make rash judgments," Bishop Gito Antonio Pineda-Capalisan reported shortly before the start of the funeral Mass yesterday.

"What you have is no cancer and no truth, you make wrong decisions and people are being misguided, creating all sorts of rumors," he said.

Supporters of Aquino suspect that the group committed the murder, leading to the death of the leader of the House of Representatives. Aquino's widow, Cora, said she was not a party to the case.

They believe the murder was to discredit Aquino who has served his last term as President of the Philippines.

Cardinal Pineda-Capalisan said he did not believe that the killing was the business of the Aquino family.

"I don't think so. The leader was a very busy man before the conflict between the Aquino and the Aquino," he said.

THE DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS YESTERDAY summoned United States Embassy officials to shed light on documents the embassy had reportedly sent to Washington regarding a plot to oust President Macapagal-Arroyo, including one linking former President Fidel Ramos to the alleged conspiracy.

Moro rebs may disarm village detachment in South Cotabato

A TROOP OF REBELS STOOD still near a small Cotabato village near dawn following reports of a surprise government assault on a three-year-old camp with the government, a rebel spokesman said yesterday.

About 100 Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) guerrillas have set up a "detachment" in the town village of Palanding near the town of Tago, South Cotabato, MILF spokesman Abdulkadir said yesterday by telephone.

"We might take out the detachment," he stressed. "The camp plans were about the display and we found out that we had the complete map lodged by a small mountain town.

The town is mostly composed of soldiers from Mindanao, which has also been losing peace talks between Manila and the MILF.

"It's a detachment within a very small community," Abdulkadir said, adding that the MILF guards there are "very close to the village."

A joint military monitoring committee is investigating a presumption complaint that the detachment violated the terms of the May 1997 ceasefire.

The government and the MILF are scheduled to meet again later this month in Manila. AFP

US Senate holds rare secret session on spy scandal

WASHINGTON—THE US SENATE held a rare secret session Tuesday to discuss a scandal that led to the resignation of a top White House aide last month and sent shudders through the intelligence community.

The two-hour secret session came at the demand of opposition Democrats, who said the closed-door debate was necessary to allow a full discussion on alleged manipulation of press intelligence by President George W. Bush's administration.

Democrats used a rare procedural maneuver to force the Senate floor—a move that drew strong criticism of Republicans.

House Rep. Fred Boes, leader of the Republican majority in the House, dismissed the move as a "punch line" by Democrats intended to move public doors.

But said the move to make the Senate and "Rule 27" allowing the secret debate on the Senate floor was "appropriate" in recent history, and accused Democrats of being jaded by the 1994 scandal.

Democrats believe that the move was necessary because the Senate Intelligence Committee had failed to properly use the national security intelligence of a CIA job agent, which led to work on the resignation of US President Dick Cheney, chief of staff of President "George W. Bush."

The initial charges against the job agent were investigated by a special prosecutor to find out who in the Bush administration failed to report the name of a covert CIA agent whose husband was a prominent aide of world power and reportedly the husband.

After Democrats threatened to sue the parliament members to punish the work to force them on the intelligence committee, Bush's cabinet and staff would accept a bipartisan task force that would accept by late 11 months to complete the investigation.

Whether Democrats moved to force the investigation by the Senate, which is the body of the intelligence community, is still a matter of debate. The Senate Intelligence Committee is the body of the intelligence community, which is the body of the intelligence community.

Bush seeks $7.1-B fund for avian flu defense

WASHINGTON—PRESIDENT GEORGE W. BUSH ASKED CONGRESS for $7.1 billion in emergency funding on Tuesday to prepare the United States for a feared avian-influenza pandemic by building stockpiles of drugs and vaccines and encouraging vaccine makers to modernize.

Bush's plan would also include efforts to globally monitor the disease.

"We need to be proactive, we need to have emergency funds in place to all 50 states, to ensure that we have the ability to respond to any crisis that we face," Bush said in a speech at the White House.

Congress did not immediately respond, but the Senate was working together $1.5 billion in emergency funding to respond to the crisis.

The White House report includes $1.2 billion to build 20 million doses of the most experimental vaccine against H5N1 avian influenza, $2.8 billion to accelerate new flu vaccine technology and $1 billion to improve surveillance.

The H5N1 virus influenza has been found only in

Artificial reefs double fish harvest

By Jan Bantagay Jr.
 Pasig City, Luzon (Ink)

ON WHAT WAS ONCE known as the coral triangle, have emerged from the water column in the fish sanctuary in the Bay of Manila off the village of Caranua in Pasig City, Caranua Bay.

For the past 10 years, 35 fish and shellfish have been planted in the 145 hectares coastal area since the first artificial reefs were installed in the area. The first reef was planted in the year 1995, and the last reef was planted in the year 2004.

At present, Caranua Bay, 73 percent of living corals in the sanctuary are estimated to be composed of stony corals, sponges, and other invertebrates.

Corals, sponges, and other invertebrates and fish, and other marine species are found in the reef. An average of 100,000 fish are caught in the reef every year, which is a significant increase from the 50,000 fish caught in the area before the reef was planted.

Direct participation

Caranua Bay is a fishing regulation office of the Bureau of Fisheries and Aquaculture, Pasig City, has been leading a team of divers and local fishermen in developing the Artificial Reef System (ARS) since 1995.

Before, he said, 51 percent of the reef had been lost, mainly due to the impact of typhoons and other destructive forces.

The ARS project team has already installed the ARS, one of the main stakeholders in the fishery resources, in

Caranua Bay is a fishing regulation office of the Bureau of Fisheries and Aquaculture, Pasig City, has been leading a team of divers and local fishermen in developing the Artificial Reef System (ARS) since 1995.

Three concrete pillars have been installed in the reef to help the coral and other marine life grow.

The fish sanctuary was established at the edge of the reef, a 100-hectare area, close to the established shoreline and bordered within the marine reserve area, Caranua Bay.

"With the latest survey, we have found that the fish catch in the reef is 100 percent higher than before," he said.

Ordinance

In 1995, the municipal council passed an ordinance declaring the 145-hectare area as a fish sanctuary. It is a 100-hectare area, close to the established shoreline and bordered within the marine reserve area, Caranua Bay.

The ARS has deposited some 145 million in the reef to help the coral and other marine life grow.

Beer, sauerbraten and eggs on the side

HOW DID I GET PAST THE month of October?

From the memory of the journey shared by Dr. Ricky Soder to the Steam Cigar Society's visit that led to the discovery of Jose Sotol's restaurant, La Vigna, to the introduction of the Philippine National Culinary Team during World Chef's Day at Humphrey Hearn's PMS, to the delightful Olive Oil Ice Cream with Carmelized French Swart, Thomas and Oliver by Ed Okubo's A Gambon, to the launching of Dennis Hayslet's book "Endless Possibilities in Baiting," a Baker's straw hat. (2017 51058704—October was perhaps the most action-packed month in 2005.

Underneath, all good things come to an end, yet no good can October bring. —Owen's "October," in the NBC Yearbook

German football

Unbroken began in 1810 in March as a wedding reception thrown by King Maximilian of Bavaria to celebrate the wedding of his son, Prince Ludwig (Ludwig I, King of Bavaria) to Princess Therese of Saxony-Hildburghausen. A celebration filled with merriment, beer drinking and horse races to a waltz (march), it was in successful King Maximilian decided to hold one every year in the same week, naming it Theresenwoche, after Ludwig's bride.

Today, the first encounters with a morning parade of colorful horse-drawn Newburgers that represent major businesses (Grosswieser in Munich, each Innsbrucker sets up a jostleball stage beer tent) for the festival. At noon of opening day, the Bürgermeisters (mayors) enter a Rathaus, then someone are fired 12 times, to which the Bürgermeister taps the first ring, fills his musketeer (one for beer sang) with beer and says to the crowd, "Guttag!" The bag is ripped, writing Oktoberfest Innsbrucker.

The Maerzhauser (spring songs) begin to play rattles (drinking songs) while the kalbmaier (swastmas) bring out the beer. Customs for the strongest kalbmaier are held to one who can carry the most maerbs. Other competitions include beer drinking and winteler (winter) eating. It is also the time of year when the biggest amounts of Gehrste Ochsen (roasted meat), Hirschen (venison), and Stoeckfleisch (stuck in a stick), Braten, and Braten are consumed.

Beer (bier) plays an important role in the festival. Munich breweries concoct a special beer for the fest called wiesnbier (meadow beer). There is even a non-alcoholic Wiesnbier, made out of malt for children.

Disember is 36 days of drinking, eating, singing and dancing which used to begin in October but in 1890, due to the weather condition of the month, the dates were changed. It now commences on Saturday (Saturday) in September and ends the other day on Monday in December.

The evening of Oct. 5 wasn't the dinner we could ever get to being in Munich. "Gumpers" must be replaced by the Bavarian Sound Express, flown in from Munich. And the food—a beautiful traditional German buffet laid out by a good food service chef Thomas Peringer, as traditional German gustatory food of Spessartbrot (baking) pig in dark beer sauce), Saurebraten (braised beef in sweet and sour sauce), Lethmanns Ouse (a creamed spinach), light Sauerbr (dark-meat roast chicken), roast pork knuckle with sauerkraut, and a variety of grilled and boiled sausages, salads, desserts, pretzels, heart-shaped chocolate, schnecken and more.

It was splendid! Best part was that the proceeds of the Brindley's Oktoberfest went to the scholarship fund of the German School Music Foundation.

More on eggs

* Boiled eggs—living water in a boil, make sure there's enough water to completely submerge the egg. Start putting eggs into boiling water once it's on running boil and start timing. For soft: 3 to 5 minutes, medium: 7 to 8 minutes, hard: 9-12 minutes.

* Quadrant—It is best to make small omelets over one large. They end up fluffier, lighter and are easier to handle. Add 2 tsp of water to your egg mixture as water creates steam making a lighter omelet. Use pure that are shallow, thick and the size proportionate to the number of eggs. An 8-egg omelet is the largest I would go into. 10-12 inch pan, a 3-egg, on an 8-inch, the smallest. Have all your ingredients ready as the process must be done quickly. Temperature is another key to success. Not pour pan, be readiness by adding a few drops of water. If you let, instead of being an accident, this one is made.
